RECIPE VIDEO DOZER

*Vegetable Lasagna is what you make when you want to load up on veggies with something that's filling, comforting and so moreish, you don't even think twice about it being Meat Free!

This incredible Vegetarian Lasagna is made with a creamy ricotta and spinach filling as well as layers of roasted vegetables and a homemade tomato lasagna sauce. It's one of my favourite fridge clean out recipes because it can be made with just about any roastable veggies!

It is hard to top an epic, meat lasagna made with layers of slow cooker ragu, béchamel sauce and oodles of cheese. But if there's anything that can give it a run for its money, it's this Vegetarian Lasagna. Here's why you'll love this so much:

- Roasted Vegetables – Roasting trumps stove sautéing when it comes to bringing out flavour in vegetables;
- Jar Roasted Red Peppers – with a touch of smokiness and sweetness, this is an optional extra that I love to add because it adds that extra special touch;
- Customisable – use whatever roast-able veggies you please;
- Spinach and Ricotta layer – It just takes this over the top! But it's optional – you could easily just double up with another layer of roasted vegetables;
- Simple homemade lasagna sauce – skip the jar, this homemade tomato sauce is simple and so good!
- Cheese – goes without saying that melty cheese is all part of a great lasagna experience!

There are a few components to putting together a Veggie Lasagna so we love that it makes a BIG batch and that it reheats 100% perfectly!

- Roast vegetables;
- Mix up ricotta and spinach;
- Make the simple tomato lasagna sauce;
- Layer the lasagna as follows:
 - ➊ Smear tomato on base (to stop lasagna sheets from sliding)
 - ➋ Top with lasagna sheets
 - ➌ Roasted vegetables
 - ➍ Some tomato pasta sauce plus cheese
 - ➎ Another layer of lasagna sheets
 - ➏ Spinach and ricotta filling for lasagna
 - ➐ Top with lasagna sheets and pasta sauce
 - ➑ Sprinkle with cheese. Ready to bake!

Vegetarian Lasagna ingredients – vegetables

ROASTED VEGETABLES

same time.

I cut mine pretty chunky because otherwise they cook too quickly in the oven – I like to roast veggies for at least 20 minutes minimum to get the maximum benefit of caramelisation.

ROASTED RED PEPPERS

My “special ingredient” – Roasted Red Peppers! Basically, it's capsicum / bell peppers that have been fire roasted so they have that gorgeous smokey flavour.

It's sweet, soft and slippery and it adds an awesome extra dimension to this lasagna. Yep, I take the easy route and buy it in a jar but if you're a keen bean, make your own!

that spinach ricotta layer develop overnight, and just a quick reheat in the microwave is all that's required to bring it back to the original molten state.

So, fellow Carnivores. Have I convinced you to give this a go??? 🤪 – Nagi x

Recipe VIDEO above. Layered with roasted vegetables, spinach and ricotta, a homemade sauce and as much cheese as you see fit, this big batch vegetarian lasagna reheats brilliantly. Epic meat-

ROASTED VEGETABLES (NOTE 1):

- ☐ 500 g / 1 lb pumpkin , 2cm / 4/5" cubes
- ☐ 2 large zucchinis , cut into 2cm / 4/5" chunks
- ☐ 2 onions (any type) , cut into wedges
- ☐ 2 tbsp olive oil
- ☐ 1 garlic clove , minced
- ☐ Salt and pepper

SPINACH RICOTTA:

- ☐ 250 g / 8 oz frozen chopped spinach , thawed
- ☐ 500 g / 1 lb ricotta (Note 2)
- ☐ 1/2 cup / 50 g grated parmesan (or 3/4 cup shredded cheese)
- ☐ 1 egg
- ☐ 1 garlic clove , minced
- ☐ 1/8 tsp grated nutmeg, optional (fresh or powder)
- ☐ 1/2 tsp each Salt and pepper

SAUCE:

- ☐ 1 tbsp olive oil
- ☐ 1 garlic clove
- ☐ 1 small onion , finely chopped (any, I use brown)
- ☐ 700 g / 24 oz tomato passata (Note 3)
- ☐ 400 g / 14 oz crushed tomato
- ☐ 1/2 cup / 125 ml water
- ☐ 3/4 tsp each dried thyme and oregano (or basil, parsley)
- ☐ 1/2 tsp dried chilli flakes (can omit / adjust to taste)
- ☐ Salt and pepper

LASAGNA:

- ☐ 330g / 11 oz jar roasted red pepper strips, drained (Note 4)
- ☐ 375 g / 13 oz fresh lasagne sheets (Note 5)
- ☐ 300 g / 3 cups shredded mozzarella (or MORE!)

Cook Mode Prevent screen from sleepingInstructions

- 2 Place vegetables on the tray, drizzle with oil, sprinkle with garlic, salt and pepper. Toss.
- 3 Roast for 25 minutes, turning at 15 minutes, until tender and browned.
- 4 Remove from oven, loosen from tray with spatula while warm (can stick when cools).

SAUCE:

- 1 Heat oil in a skillet over medium high heat. Add garlic and onion, cook for 3 minutes until golden.
- 2 Add passata, crushed tomato, water, dried herbs, chilli, salt and pepper. Stir. Simmer on medium low heat for 20 minutes. Adjust salt at the end. Add a teeny touch of sugar if it's a bit sour, depends on quality of tomatoes used.
- 3 Remove from stove and let cool for 5 minutes before using.

RICOTTA MIXTURE:

- 1 Place ingredients in a bowl and mix until combined.

LASAGNA:

- 1 Preheat oven to 160C/320F.
- 2 Spread a ladle of tomato sauce on the base of a large baking dish (Note 5).
- 3 Cover with lasagna sheets, tearing as required to fit.
- 4 Top with roasted vegetables, scatter over red peppers. Spoon over 2 1/2 cups of Sauce, then sprinkle with half the cheese.
- 5 Cover with lasagna sheets. Spread over Ricotta mixture.
- 6 Cover with lasagna sheets. Pour over remaining sauce and sprinkle with remaining cheese.
- 7 Bake for 25 – 30 minutes or until the cheese is golden. If using dried lasagna sheets, stick a knife in the middle to ensure it's cooked – if it needs longer, cover and stick it back in the oven.
- 8 Rest for 5 minutes before cutting and serving. Store leftovers per notes – brilliant reheated!

Recipe Notes:

1. Veggies – feel free to use any vegetables you want, just cut them so they roast in around 20 to 25 minutes. Cauliflower, broccoli, carrots, squash are some I've used in the past.

Pumpkin: 600g/1.2lb unpeeled weight.

2. Ricotta – It's best to get ricotta over the counter at the deli, even at supermarkets, rather than buying in tubs unless it's a brand you know is good like Paesanella. Harris Farms brand ricotta is also good. I find ricotta in tubs at supermarkets is typically grainy and kind of powdery – even the “big” brands (like Perfect Italiano).

of supermarkets in Australia – it's becoming increasingly popular. I like to use a combination of passata and crushed tomato for texture and flavour.

If you can't find passata, use the same weight of crushed tomato.

America – if you can't find tomato passata, use Tomato Puree or what you call Tomato Sauce.

4. Roasted Red Peppers – optional, adds sweetness and extra flavour dimension. I use Always Fresh. You could just add chopped capsicum / bell peppers to the roasted vegetables.

5. LASAGNA SHEETS: I like using fresh lasagne sheets sold in the fridge section. If you can only get dried, use No Boil sheets for convenience, or if required pre cooking, cook the lasagna sheets per the packet directions.

If using dried instant / No Boil lasagne sheets, add an extra 1/2 cup of water into your sauce (because the lasagne sheets absorb liquid while cooking). Note, sometimes dried instant lasagna sheets usually end up with a buckled surface, but doesn't affect flavour.

I prefer fresh lasagna because it doesn't absorb liquid while cooking so the lasagna stays really nice and saucy.

SUB: Believe it or not, tortillas make an excellent substitute for lasagna sheets! Ideal gluten free option – use corn tortillas.

6. My baking pan is 33 x 22 x 7 cm / 13 x 9 x 2.5".

7. STORAGE: This keeps so well in both the fridge and freezer. Cool before covering, then refrigerate or freeze. Defrost before warming. I just reheat in the microwave, but you can also reheat in the oven.

Make ahead: Best way is to assemble then refrigerate or freeze, then bake (defrosted) when required per recipe.

ricotta? Frozen chopped spinach is not a staple here 😊 Thank you in advance!

Forgot the egg! Oops but it wasn't missed.

Not sure I'll manage to get 8 serves out of it! It is far too delicious

I've never made a lasagne before. This is a great recipe, though fairly labour intensive! I made it for my hubby and I; we'll be eating it for days, it's very filling. I didn't add any salt as there is already plenty in the tomato ingredients. Great to make on a rainy day or for when you need to feed a group of people.

Having a vegetarian in the family, I needed to add a non meat option to a lasagne buffet.

It didn't last long on the night, and is now regularly requested at our family dinners. Great recipe, well received by vegetarians and carnivores alike.

I have made this a few times sticking to the recipe almost exaftmy . I always use pumpkin , zucchini and eggplant for my veggies and this is the best veg lasagne ever . Today I made homemade cauliFlower sheets instead of pasta sheets and it was next level. So tasty and healthy and my family loved it . Thanks nagi!

One of my fav lasagne recipes ever! Roasting the veg ensured it wasn't watery (like a lot of veggie lasagne recipes online). I used cottage cheese for extra protein and it turned out delish. 5 stars!

Second weekend in a row that I'm making it. I swapped pumpkin for eggplant and onion for leek on the roast veg, plus I cooked the onion and garlic down in some red wine for the sauce. Flipping amazing and so good for a dinner party as you can prep layers beforehand and assemble it for the oven right before it's time to eat 🍴

This is delicious! I made it with GF dried pasta sheets and it was perfect! Loved the addition of chilli in the sauce – just added a little something, something! Thank you for such a great recipe.

Just finished making and eating this wonderful recipe. Very yummy. Followed the recipe except my husband is not keen on zucchini so only used one small one and roasted some broccoli aswell. Hope I never loose the recipe as it is definitely a keeper. Next time I'm going to fry up a few mushrooms and add to the veggies. I have taken notes on the various veggies you have also used. Thanks so much for sharing this recipe.

I used a large eggplant instead of pumpkin, cottage cheese instead of ricotta. Forgot to add the peppers to the veg layer so they got mixed into the top layer of sauce and cheese. I didn't add salt at all and found it didn't need it, though maybe I added extra Delicious! I used my largest dish, though, at 11x15x2.5" – 5Q/5L – and filled it.

As Nagi notes, any fresh vegetables can be used for roasting. I filled a half-sheet pan with red onion, zucchini, portabella mushroom chunks, broccoli, and green pepper. (I did not use fresh pumpkin due to availability.)

I zipped up the sauce by including two diced carrots and two celery stalks.

I used an 8oz/250g block of mozzarella, grated, with 2/3 in the middle and 1/3 on top. Then I added about 4oz grated parmesan.

I love (and used) fresh grated nutmeg. Unlike most spices, though, don't add extra. A small bit of fresh nutmeg goes a long way.

I used vegetable broth instead of water – and upped it due to dried lasagna sheets.

I baked the dish for 25 minutes at 350F and then upped it to 400F for another 10 minutes.

SO good!

I made this for a get-together with a vegetarian friend, and I don't usually attempt dishes I've never made before—but this Vegetarian Lasagna turned out absolutely perfect!

One thing to note: I assembled the lasagna the day before and refrigerated it overnight. To avoid any risk of the baking dish cracking in the hot oven, I took it out about 30 minutes beforehand to bring it to room temperature.

I baked it in my regular Miele oven. While Nagi suggested 160°C, I went with 180°C fan-forced, and it still took around 35–40 minutes to cook. Although everything was done, some parts were still a bit lukewarm. Our guests were hungry, so I had to take it out earlier than I would have liked.

This was a lively main dish for a vegetarian dinner. And I used blended full cream cottage cheese instead of the ricotta to up the protein and it still turned out fantastic!

I always use cottage cheese for this recipe! It's a brilliant substitute and Lidl's full fat option is fantastic – much tastier and creamier than any ricotta I've ever had.

Great punchy and delicious recipe for vegetarians and non-vegetarians to enjoy. The textures and flavours were great. Made as per recipe but used fresh English spinach 10 very very generous or 12 generous portions so there is plenty to freeze for another night.

Fresh-tasting and utterly delicious. I used roasted eggplant (using Nagi's recipe with big chunks and high temperature) with kumara for first level.
